Business Outlook for Both the Rio Grande and Western Pacific Good.

"Yes, we are contemplating hig improvements on the road," said Benjamin F. Bush, president of the Denver & Rio Grande, vesterday. "We haven't the money for these improvements, but the board of directors will meet April 27 and after that we will know more about it. Of course, we expect to get the money and we have plans made for the work of improvement, but until we have the money we prefer not to publish our plans. They include, however, the cutting down of the grade over Soldier Summit and the double tracking of the main line be-double tracking of the main line between that point and Salt Lake City.

"There is no special significance to my trip here. I believe that Mr. Levey and Mr. Brown expect to make some changes in the time card for the Denver & Rio Grande and the Western Pacific, but that is their work. It is necessary for me to come out here some times and I like to come out here some times and I like to come out as often as possible in order to keep in touch with this end of the line and conditions in general."

Will Hold Conference.

C. M. Levey, second vice president and general manager of the Western Pacific, and E. L. Lomax, passenger traffic manager of the Western Pacific, arrived in Salt Lake yesterday afternoon in order to confer with the other officials of the Gould lines. The officials of both the Denver & Rio Grande and the Western Pacific are optimistic in regard to the future. They assert that business on their lines is getting better and will, it is anticipated, continue to get better all summer. Feather River canyon is summer. 'Feather River canyon is becoming known to people on both ends of the Western Pacific,' said Mr. Lomax, 'and many are flocking to see MASONS CONFERRING The good part of it is that after they have been through the cany once they always want to see it again.

"I have been too busy to get really acquainted with the Denver & Rio Grande." said Mr. Brown. "There were a lot of threads to pick up and everything took time. We are contemplated to the semi-analysis of Utah.

BRUCE WEDGWOOD ENTERS ARMY LIFE

According to announcement made in the Army and Navy Journal, Bruce Wedgwood of this city, son of Adjutant General E. A. Wedgwood of this state, has been appointed from civil life to a second licutenancy in the regular army. He took the examination at Fort Dougleo host winter. It is expected that he will be ordered to Fort Leavenworth soon for instruction in the officers' school before being assigned to a regiment.

After leaving the Sait Lake schools, Licutenant Wedgwood studied for more than two years at the Culver Military academy in Indiana, where he took a high standing in his classes, and showed especial proficiency in military training. He has for some time been an employee in the office of the adjutant general of this state and is familiar with much official foutine.

Lieutenant Wedgwood's appointment was one of thirty-eight appointments awarded civilians. It is said that the appointment of this number leaves yet about 150 vacancies in the army.

Mr. Toronto is well known here, having for some years held the position of professor of mathematics in the University of Utah. For about four years he has been traveling in Europe and Asia, having visited England, Ireland, Russia, Germany, Switzerland, Turkey and the Holy Land. Mr. Toronto is now touring Italy, making Rome his headquarters. He describes interestingly some of his personal experiences at the Italian capital.

No line is fixed by Mr. Toronto for his sturn to Utah, but it is not expected for some time yet. He is collecting historical and other matter, which holds particular interest for one of his studious character, and it is thought by his friends that he contemplates some ilterary work when he shall have finished his travels.

NO CAUSE FOUND

In compliance with a provision of the law, the state board of pardons met year terday and reviewed the transcript of proceedings in the case of J. Morris, who will be executed next week for the murder of J. W. Axtell. Trial Judge F. C. Loofbourow appeared before the board with the awarn transcript and after examination the board decreed that no cause existed why Morris should not bay the extrema penalty. His execution will take place at the state prison on April 30.

ARTISTS MAY REPEAT HAYDN'S "CREATION

So great has been the interest aroused n the production of classic, sacred music by Salt Lake talent as exemplified in the rendition of Haydn's "Creation" at the Salt Lake theater Monday night and Wednesday afternoon, that a weil-defined movement is on foot for the repetition of the oratorio at an early date. The second presentation of "The Creation" was given yesterday afternoon before an appreciative audience, largely university students. The high standard of work set at the initial production of Monday night was faithfully maintained, and in some parts surpassed. At the conclusion of the oratorio, Frof. Squire Coop, director and head of the musicadepartment of the university was presented with a beautiful floral offering sent by the faculty of the institution as a tribute of appreciation for his upiliting and inspiring work. Soloists, chorus and orchestra alike won praise for their splendid work, and the introductory Grieg concerto, played by Miss Lillian Wright, was as on Monday night, a truly artistic foature. There were scores of music lovers who yesterday expressed the hope for an early repetition of the great oratorio. Wednesday afternoon, that a weil-defined

QUESTION OF SALOON LICENSE IS ARGUED

The question of whether Hill & Warmack shall be issued a saloon license for a place on South Main street was argued yesterday before Judge Ritchie by Allan T. Sanford representing the petitioners and Aaron Meyers, assistant city attorney, who is presenting the views of the city commissioners against increasing the number of saloons in operation in this city. Judge Ritchie heard the arguments, which had been continued from the preceding day, and took the case under advisement.

Telegram From President.

The general call for relief came in the form of a telegram to Governor Spry from President Taft, who heads the American Red Cross association. The telegram reads as follows:

Gov. William Spry, Salt La

Gov William Spry, Salt Lake City, Utah:

Conditions of distress resulting from the flood in the lower Mississipply valley have assumed such intensity and magnitude that it has become my duty as president of the American Red Cross to make known the facts as given to the press today in order that the people of the United States may express their sympathy in substantial form. Fully 25,000 persons are now homeless and dependent on the generosity of the country for food and shelter and the number is steadily increasing. The army is doing everything possible to provide shelter and food to meet the immediate emergency. But the equally important task of conducting the relief camps, maintaining health and restoring the flood refugees to their homes under conditions which will enable them to return to normal conditions of life rests upon the local authorities and the Red Cross. Many thousands of people will return to their homes to find their houses and food supplies for themselves and their farm animals almost or wholly destroyed. Questions of health which inevitably arise from the gathering of great numbers into camps are already becoming acute and to these will be added others even more serious when the waters subside. Typloid, dysentery, smallpox, malaria and other diseases threaten and must if possible be prevented by brompt and vigorous measures. For this task resources far in excess to those now at command will be essential. If you, as president of your state Red Cross board, see fit to supplement the publication by proclamation to the people of your state the force of the appeal will be greatly strengthened. Contributions received by members of your state heard should be duly credited by your board freasurer and transmitted to the national treasurer in Washington.
